Committee Updates

Programs Committee: Lt Kessler is finishing up the details for next week's luncheon; there are several POCs for collecting money. We are still waiting on a topic, but Gen Peccia may be working on something specific for us. The brief will be approximately thirty minutes long. Mandy will get the agenda for Rob who will be standing in as President for Mr. DeCocker. Mr. DeCocker wants to show a video from the 1st SOW. Jason has it and is working out the details. December 12th will be the holiday luncheon. There will be a speaker from Civilian Health and Wellness. Games will be handled by Max Miller and April Chapel. Currently looking at the 2nd or 3rd week of January for the luncheon to ensure everyone is back from leave.

Community Service: Children in Crises has asked us for ornament donations or help decorating their Christmas tree for the competition at Grand Boulevard. They also gave us a wish list for four older teens/young adults for Adopt-A-Family. They would like for us to do this in place of one family. We are looking at doing a Habitat for Humanity event after the New Year.

Publicity: ASMC inbox is still not working. Still waiting to get access back after upgrade.

Membership: There are several people who are going to move their membership to our chapter and several members are renewing. Panama City chapter wants to merge with us. What will the effect be for us?

Ways and Means: The raffle for gift wrapping times is on Monday. We need to push amazon smile for the holiday shopping season. Need to compile and send out screenshots for setting up ASMC as the selected charity. We need more ideas for fundraising.

Education: Have less than 10 signed up for the ASMC CDFM pilot testing; not sure if they will still send a proctor down for a small group. We could potentially get a local proctor if not. EDFMT will be coming to Eglin the week of May 14th. The class is being sponsored by LCMC and Edwina is organizing the tests for afterwards.

IT: Working on 1st SOW video so we can show at the luncheon.

Treasurer: No update.

Newsletter: Mr. DeCocker said Brianna can use article from October for November Newsletter.

The relay will be at the Mullet Festival grounds this year on May 11th. The Comptrollers for a Cause team has been activated on the Relay for Life website. There is already some money raised and Dockside is will to do the cooking experience again.
